California's long-standing housing crisis demands a comprehensive and sustainable plan to increase the supply of housing affordable to families struggling to get by. Increasing the supply of housing will not only stabilize families, it will create jobs and make California competitive again.

Elena Gardens stands out as a model for affordable development that transforms lives. A community designed for families, Elena Gardens affordable homes have either balconies or fenced patios and sit amidst trees, sidewalks and grassy areas. The development has a clubhouse, a children's play area, and after school activities for youth. Located in North San Jose, it is close to schools and several parks.

Elena Gardens was partially financed using Low Income Housing Tax Credits.

The Housing Affordability Crisis is Solvable

Lives have already been positively changed in your district by affordable developments. Everyone talks about California's high cost of housing—this is the moment leaders like you can support bold solutions to do something about it.

Use your legislative power to invest significant state investment in housing to lift more of your constituents out of poverty and create a meaningful legacy you can be proud of.